DATES TO AUGUST 3.

Carrington again consumed the entire day in arguing the Surratt case.
The Surratt case will hardly reach the jury this week.
WASHINGTON, July 31.—Merrick has commenced his argument in defence of Surratt.
WASHINGTON, August 1.—Merrick has closed his argument in the Surratt case. Bradley will speak briefly to-morrow.

Gas Explosions.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 29.—Three explosions of gas occurred last night near the Lancaster House. Ten to twenty firemen and others, were badly burned—one fatally.

Cholera on the Plains—Indian Depredations.

St. Louis, July 29.—Western dispatches detail a number of cases of cholera among the troops at various forts. Several officers, and Father Denure, a Catholic priest, have died.
The Indians are depredating on the stage route between Denver and Salt Lake. Big Pond station was burned and three coaches fired upon.
The Time's Omaha special reports that the train from Leavenworth was attacked by Indians, who were finally driven off with a loss of ten or fifteen killed.
Denver Daily Iris arrived at Denver from Europe en route to Salt Lake.

Fire at Cairo.

A fire at Cairo burned nine buildings at the levee, loss $120,000.

From Canada.

MONTREAL, July 31.—The volunteers forbring into the crowd at St. Hyacinth, are severely censured by the papers. The officers completely lost their presence of mind.

The Virginia Convention.

RICHMOND, July 31.—A large number delegates to the Convention have arrived. Many caucuses are being held. A caucus approved the platform favoring the restoration of the political rights of the great body of the people. It urges the disfranchisement of thirteen artful leaders. The Mayor issues a proclamation prohibiting the carrying of firearms to-day. Three hundred special police were sworn.

Riots.

A riot occurred at Kingston, Tenn., yesterday. Negro radicals interrupted the Ethridge meeting. One negro was shot.
A desperate riot occurred at Hanly yesterday. The sheriff was shot and several others severely wounded.

Fire.

CHICAGO, July 31.—An incendiary fire last night burned seven buildings in the north division of the city.

More Removals by Sheridan.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1.—Gen. Sheridan has issued an order removing the Board of Councilmen and appointing new members, some of whom are negroes. Threatenings against the removal are the disordered condition to which the Council have reduced the city credit, and the efforts making to impede the execution of the acts of Congress.

Tennessee Election—Brownlow Re-Elected.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The Republican's special gives scattering returns from various parts of Tennessee which indicate that Brownlow's majority will be from 30[illegible] to 40,000. The election was generally quiet. Brownlow's majority in Knox county was 2,668, only one Conservative vote being cast. The negro vote was almost unanimous for Brownlow.

Pacific Railroad.

Another section of twenty miles of the Union Pacific Railroad is completed, making 230 miles west of the eastern line of Kansas.

The New Indian Reservations.

It is expected the Indian Commissioners to select a reservation for Indians, will meet at St. Louis on the 5th of August, to organize and arrange their programme. No difficulty is apprehended. A portion of the Territory to be selected is proposed to be cut off from North-western Texas. It is separated from the rest of the State by Staked plains, and a sandy waste. The consent of the State can be obtained if deemed necessary, for a compensative trifle. The whole expense of the proposed plan will cost less than a single day's hostilities.

Another Invasion of Canada.

CHICAGO, August 2.
The Fenians had a large meeting in the Court house Square last night. Active preparations for another assault on Canada are declared to be in progress. It is said all factions are now working in perfect harmony.

Severe Rain Storm.

BOSTON, Aug. 2.—The most severe rain storm known for years, occurred here yesterday. Accounts from the country state that great damage to the crops undoubtedly was done. Many disasters are reported along the coast. Four inches of rain fell in three hours.

New York Trade Report.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—State Arkin butter, firm. Bankers sterling, firm. Ingot copper closed, 25@26. Domestic cotton goods, firm. Wamsuttasheetings, 30c. Lonsdale, 28½. Merrimac prints, 16½@19. Sprague, 14½@19½. Sperling and Spragues lead firm, with upward tendency. Spirits turpentine, $3 84@3 90. Cut nails, firm. There is no excess of tonnage.

Shipping.

Cleared steamship New York, of the P. M. S. S. Co., for Hong Kong. She is probably intended as an extension on the San Francisco and Japan route. Cleared, yesterday, ships Goodhope and George Peabody, for San Francisco. Cleared, to-day, ships Malgo and Lookout for San Francisco.

Southern News—Attempt at Assassination.

SAVANNAH, July 29.—The first bale of new cotton is received from Florida. It is a very inferior article.
NEW YORK, July 29.—The Times' Columbia, S. C., special says Wm. J. Armstrong, representative of the Congressional Republican Committee, with J. Q. Thompson, correspondent of the Times, were unfortunately assaulted on account of their participation in a Republican Convention. The rioters were arrested immediately and released on bail. Gen. Burton, Post Commander, arrested them by the military.
NEW YORK, July 31.—Henry Stevens, a distinguished citizen of Vermont, died yesterday.
NEW ORLEANS, July 29.—Mass was celebrated to-day for the repose of the souls of those killed in the riot a year ago in Mechanics' Hall.
The Levee Commissioners have sent a committee North to negotiate the sale of levee bonds.
RICHMOND, Aug. 1.—The Republican Convention met to-day at the African Church and adjourned to Capitol Square. Over 3,000 persons were in attendance. Portions of the delegates issued handbills calling a meeting at the Hall of the House of Delegates in the evening, and refused to participate in the proceedings at Capitol Square. Speeches were made at the meeting in the Square, denouncing John M. Botts and his clique, and asserting that Botts desired to make the Republican party of Virginia subservient to his own party or rule it. The Capitol Square party proceeded to complete their organization, causing considerable turbulence and confusion, many persons attempting to speak at once. All the officers of the April convention were elected officers of this meeting. The platform of that convention was adopted, and the meeting adjourned till to-morrow. At the meeting appointed in the Hall of the House of Delegates, few persons assembled and speeches were made, denouncing the action of the meeting in the Square as hurried and unfair. Botts was invited to address the meeting, but he declined. Influential Republicans say that negotiations are in progress which will avert a split in the Republican party.
RICHMOND, Aug. 2.—The Republican Convention reassembled in Capitol Square at 10 o'clock. Dr. Bain, of Norfolk moved that as the work of the Convention was finished, it now adjourn sine die. Carried.
The Convention then resolved itself into a mass meeting. John M. Botts made a speech and also read an addition to the platform which, being submitted, was withdrawn.
WASHINGTON, July 29.—Extreme destitution in the Southern States has ceased. The issue of rations will be discontinued after August 20, except to the sick in regular hospitals.
CHARLESTON, Aug. 2.—Gen. Sickles has removed the police of the town of Sumter for maltreatment of blacks, and has appointed two colored and one white policeman to supercede them.
NASHVILLE, Aug. 2.—A full delegation of Radicals are elected to Congress, namely: Trimble, Stokes, Arnell, Maynard, Hawkins, Mullins, Hudness and Butler. The Radicals made a clean sweep of both branches of the Legislature. Many negroes were discharged for voting the Radical ticket, but were all immediately given employment in the Quartermaster's Department. General Durfin will publish the name of such employers.
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 3.—The registration returns show a white majority of forty-eight in the city. The interior rolls will make a large difference. So far as heard from, the registration of the State shows the blacks to be nearly double the number of whites.
NEW ORLEANS, July 30.—Sheridan has issued an order removing Gov. Throckmorton for impeding reconstruction, appointing E. H. Pease as Governor of Texas.

Mexico.

NEW ORLEANS, July 29.—General Berriozabal is leaving the earthworks around Matamoras that were built by the French and Mejia.
Advices from Queretaro confirm the shooting of Vidaurri, Castillo and other Imperial officers. The feeling is apparently unanimous in favor of Juarez. Gomez and Canale are causing great trouble in the State of Tamaulipas. Forces are going forward to crush them.

From Central and South America.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Henry Chauncey has arrived. The news from the interior of Columbia is unimportant. Mosquera's party is quiet, and the people await the meeting of Congress. Acosta has issued a decree calling on Gen. Gutierez, first designated by Concurrence, to return from Europe and take charge of the executive. He was expected in July. Central America is tranquil. Several severe shocks of earthquake had occurred at Salvador. Chile is excited over a rumor that the Spanish fleet is again in the Pacific. The declaration of the Minister that the Government would merely act on the defence, caused great dissatisfaction. Additional arrangements are preparing at Callao for their reception. 27 vessels, with 2,200 troops, sailed from Chincha Islands and Callao in June. The 4th of July was celebrated at Callao. The Government has conceded to the United States permission to keep on shore deposits for the United States fleet. The Peruvian Constitution will be promulgated July 28th, the anniversary of Peruvian independence.

Miscellaneous.

PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—Considerable excitement existed among cotton dealers on account of the seizure of their stocks by the Internal Revenue officers, who declare that certificates of payment are insufficient.
St. Louis, July 31.—It is reported that the Indians are concentrating on the line of the Wind River Mountains, near the Sweetwater. A private letter to General Dodge says the Indians are daily attacking trains, and travel between Green river and Fort Sanders is stopped.
NEW YORK, July 30.—The Lower California Company has placed half its stock in the market at $15 per share, payable in installments prior to August 10th.
The reported death of "Little-all-right," is positively denied by Ridley.
Judge Mott has issued an injunction, restraining quarantine commissioners from taking any part of Coney Island.
Two hundred and twenty-seven deaths occurred last week over at Brooklyn, including seventeen cases of cholera.
A letter from Monterey says that Lopez, the betrayer of Maximilian, has been arrested by Gov. Gowen, and will be executed.

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST 5, 1867.

Defines His Position.

The other day we quoted Chief Justice Chase on rebellion. One of the organs of rebellion, that is to say, a Democratic organ, replies by parading some fragments of speeches which it says were delivered by Mr. Chase some years ago, asserting the State rights doctrine as held by the Democratic party. The substance of the several extracts given is that the States being sovereign, have a right to judge of infractions of the Constitution and the mode of redress. These, we are told, are the principles to which Mr. Chase has been attached during nearly the whole of his political life. And in the same article, his assumed life-long attachment to these principles is called "a life of treason against a Constitutional Government." Now let us for the present grant that the Chief Justice held formerly the opinions which the Herald attributes to him; and guided by the remark just quoted from that paper, let us see where it leads the Democracy. If Chase is reported correctly, he only held the principles embodied in the resolutions of '98 and '99, which the Democracy have been "reaffirming" for sixty or seventy years. The odious doctrines attributed to him are couched in almost the very words of those resolutions. If his life has been devoted to these principles, it has been devoted to genuine "Democratic" principles. This cannot be denied. Yet a Democratic paper stigmatizes a life, which he asserts has been so employed, as "a life of treason against Constitutional Government." This settles the business for modern Democracy. This is a description of its tendencies and results, given by one of its own advocates. Taking the writer's own words for it, who is more a traitor—himself or the man he denounces? If Chase ever held principles which were "treasonable to Constitutional Government," he has abandoned them; but his Oregon accuser holds these very same treasonable principles still. One who still believes in the doctrines of the resolutions of '98, calls another person a traitor solely because that person is said to have formerly believed in the same doctrines! We are glad to see the Herald editor take so much pains to establish his own political status. It is settled now that one cannot be a Democrat without being also a "traitor to Constitutional Government."

Having thus disposed of this matter, let us see if Judge Chase ever held the "anarchical" opinions imputed to him. Let us inquire if ever he, by endorsing these long received Democratic doctrines, became guilty of "treason against Constitutional Government." It is asserted that at a Convention held in Buffalo in 1845 he reported a resolution proposing "to regard and treat the third clause of the Constitution, whenever applied to the case of a fugitive slave, as utterly null and void, and consequently as forming no part of the Constitution of the United States, whenever we are called upon or sworn to support it." After stating this resolution, the Herald adds: "In this, not only the right but the duty of nullifying and disobeying the Constitution of the United States is unequivocally affirmed by Mr. Chase."

The editor who wrote the above professes to be a model of truth, candor and fairness. This, however, is only a cloak which he uses to disguise the most shameless mendacity. The case before us is a notable instance of his disposition to pervert the truth. We therefore proceed to unmask this unscrupulous liar. (This, let it be observed, is his favorite style of expression, not ours.) At the convention referred to, Mr. Chase was an active member of the Committee on resolutions, to which was referred, under a rule of the Convention, the resolution above mentioned. In that Committee, Mr Chase opposed the resolution, and through his influence the Committee refused to report it. Its author was, however, determined to make another effort to secure its adoption, and accordingly moved the resolution in the Convention, when it carried. Mr. Chase opposed it throughout. Some years afterwards when in the United States Senate, he was charged by Senator Butler of South Carolina, with the authorship and advocacy of this resolution,—a charge which he indignantly and triumphantly denied. Mr Chase once acted with the Democratic party, but he never went to such lengths as to threaten disunion or to the Constitution. That was an advanced position of "Democracy" which he never reached. The editor who has charged him with being the author and advocate of the resolution above referred to, is either densely ignorant of political history, or a willful falsifier. That in this case he deliberately lies (to use again his favorite form of expression) is very probable, since he has lived long enough to have a personal recollection of the facts, and to know by this means, if from no other, what the truth in the matter is.

Our purpose in publishing this refutation is to show, as we have had occasion to show a good many times before, that the editor of the Herald, though claiming to be the pink of truth and honesty and accusing everybody else of "lying," himself habitually resorts to falsehood to establish any points he may wish to make. Such is his anxiety to justify the late rebellion that he does not hesitate to accuse men of approved patriotism of greater crimes than those of which Davis and his associates are guilty. This is his constant habit, and we have long since ceased to be surprised at any of his perversions of the truth when he writes with this object in view.

Tennessee.

The tremendous Republican majority in Tennessee is an indication of the general result throughout the entire South. When Tennessee gives 30,000 to 40,000 Republican majority, some idea may be formed of the strength of that party in those States. That a good many returned rebels in Tennessee are disfranchised, we well know; but their whole number can be nothing near so great as Brownlow's majority. The result of this election indicates that the Republicans will press their opponents hard in every Southern State, and even justifies the belief that several of those States will be carried by the rising party. It is easy to see that "Radicalism is on the decline!"

When the Democratic members of the City Council refused to elect their Marshal according to agreement, that distinguished citizen was majestically wroth, refused to have anything more to do with the Democrats, and undertook to make advances toward the Republican members. If they had had any disposition to enter into any arrangement, their perfect knowledge of the character of the party to be contracted with, his known untrustworthiness, and his constant habit of "selling out" those who rely upon him, would have prevented the acceptance of any offer from him.

Milton had a broader idea of the meaning of the word "education" than the world has yet risen to, though two centuries notable for advancement have elapsed since his time. He characterized as a "complete and generous education," "that which fits a man to perform justly, skilfully, and magnanimously, all the offices, both private and public, of peace and war." What reforms are to be effected before our universities and colleges furnish such a broad and expansive and fitting education as this? And yet it is their legitimate work.

The question is, whether a man who sells his for a position and then votes for himself, is to take the office for which he is thus corr[upted]? This question which, if not [answered] without du[bitation]

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 3.—Twenty persons charged with misdemeanors, and assault and battery, were arrested last evening for a disturbance in Turk street. It was a dispute for the possession of a piece of ground, to which there are rival claims.

The Republican State Committee is in session, to consider the new situation of affairs produced by Bidwell's declination. The committee will probably nominate another person for Governor, and fill the vacancy for Clerk of the Supreme Court.

In the County Court to-day, the trial of John Robinson, indicted for bigamy was commenced before a jury. The defendant and Kate Robinson, his first wife, were present. Witnesses were introduced by the above, and the fact of the two marriages of the defendant was established. At the close of the testimony for the prosecution, the defence offered in evidence of a divorce issued by a Court in Utah, separating defendant from his first wife, the counsel contended that the defendant believed in the legality of the decree of the Utah court, and that he acted in good faith when he married the present wife; that the presence of the decree destroyed the presumption that he intended to commit the crime of bigamy. The District Attorney objected to the decree that it was invalid. The case is still on trial.

The schooner Emma Augusta arrived this morning in the short passage of 47 days from Hongkong. This is a new vessel recently built at this port, and her first round trip is regarded as very satisfactory.

STOCKTON, Aug. 3.—On Monday morning last an accident occurred at Jones' Ranch, on the French Camp road, about 20 miles from Stockton, by which Patrick Jennings, a native of Ireland, lost his life. Deceased, with over thirty other men, was employed on the farm and was getting the horses in readiness to work a threshing machine, when the horse on which he was riding, commenced plunging and kicking, so that the rider fell in the harness and was dragged over one hundred feet by the animal, which ran furiously and kicked while running. The unfortunate man was so badly injured that he lingered in great pain until Thursday forenoon, when he died.

YANK'S STATION, Lake Valley, Aug. 3.—It seems that three desperate fellows, giving their names as Frank, Dotell and St. Clair, started from Sacramento with the determination to make money in some way. They commenced by robbing houses along the road, and on Monday or Tuesday they stopped a teamster just above Sportsman's Hall, and made him shell out; then came on up the road, robbing houses at their pleasure; also robbing a man, who was driving a water-carton the road, of some eleven or twelve dollars. Sheriff Hume struck the course they were taking, came up and last night, together with three or four men, laid for them at a point on the road near Osgood's toll house, where they could not well get around. About 11 o'clock the robbers came, all armed with rifles. Hume ordered them to stop, whereupon one of them fired a shot, taking effect in the fleshy part of the Sheriff's arm, though not hurting him seriously. Hume then ordered his men to fire, and when the smoke cleared away, they found one dead and one not hurt. The third one, they say, fell off the bridge, and until this morning they supposed him to be in the creek, but found that he recovered and crawled under the bridge and stayed there until all were in the toll house, when, minus two coats, he started back toward Placerville.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Dan Callahan, Antone Franks and Francis Bostwick were taken into custody yesterday charged with being insane. They were lodged in the Calithose to await the action of the Commissioner of lunacy.

James W. Sloeum, Enrolling Clerk of the Second District of the Seventh Ward, was arrested yesterday for an alleged violation of the registry act, on the complaint of Philip Bates, who charged him with having refused to enroll him on the poll list. The defendant was subsequently released on giving $500 bail.

Bridget Carson was arrested last night on a complaint preferred by Fire Marshal Burkee, charging her with arson in setting fire to the Columbia House.

In the case of John R Robinson, charged with bigamy, which has been before the courts for about three years, the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. The decree of the Salt Lake Court was considered worthless, and refused as evidence, but the jury gave Robinson the credit of having believed it to be legal, and acquitted him.

The Republican State Central Committee was in session yesterday afternoon for two hours. They decided on nothing save that Gen. Bidwell's last letter must be accepted as an abandonment of course taken by them. The question of filling the vacancy caused by the death of Farquhar was discussed, but no decision arrived at. They formally adjourned until Monday afternoon, when they propose to nominate a full ticket.

At the close of the Clerk's office, yesterday, there were twenty thousand and twenty-seven names on the great register.

STATE ITEMS.

The crops in Grant county promise above an average yield. At almost all points east of the mountains crops are said to be fair.

Senator Williams delivered a very powerful speech at Salem on Thursday last. We hope to hear him in Portland at his earliest convenience.

A letter from Canyon City states that two men had arrived at that place from the South side of Stein Mountain, on Queen's river, who report having struck rich rich prospects, but were afraid of staying longer on account of Indians.

The Fair of the Washington county Agricultural Society will be held at Hillsboro, commencing on the 5th of September and continuing three days. The association purchased ten or twelve acres of land near the town for use as Fair Grounds. This tract has been enclosed with a handsome and substantial fence, and provided in all the necessary conveniences for the purpose for which it is designed.

The summer vacation of Pacific University will end on the 14th inst. On that day studies will be resumed. Prof. Lyman who for years has had charge of the department of Mathematics in the institution has been released for one year from his post. His place will be temporarily filled by Prof. Collier. Prof. March lately sent from the East, will have charge of the department Ancient Languages. President March who was at home during the whole of last year, is now at his post again.

An enthusiastic individual writes to the Corvallis Gazette concerning Yaquina Bay. The letter is dated at Oysterville. The writer thinks that the best way to get from the Willamette Valley to San Francisco is to go by way of Yaquina Bay. The trip he thinks may be made easily in forty-eight hours. The trifling obstacles presented by the Coast Mountains are to be annihilated by the construction of a railroad from Corvallis to the Bay. Corvallis will then become the seaport town of Oregon. "Benton county possesses the key of the way and if she had the means and the spirit to build a railroad, she would draw new life and wealth from every part of the State; but Benton county is not alone to be benefited. Polk, Marion, Linn, Lane, and others, are equally interested in this enterprise. Much more may be said of the advantages of this route, and but little required to answer the objections that may be offered." It is greying to know that it is no trouble at all to answer the objections that may be raised against the project, as the Yaquina Bay people will for that reason have their wits' time for the actual prosecution of the work. Pray, let them consider all objections fully silenced and hurry the work along!

By letter from Fort Stevens we are informed that Lance Corporal H. E Elliott of the Artillery, deserted from that post on the 30th of July. He is described as 6 feet 9 inches high, dark complexion, black hair and eyes and having small chin whiskers. He carried with him the following articles belonging to men of Company "C," 2d Artillery: 1 Elgin silver lever, full capped hunting watch, 1 American lever watch, 1 revolver, great coat, boots etc., and about $200 in cash. Any one delivering the, English lever watch at Fort Stevens, Oregon, will receive $50 reward, legal tenders.

THE DOOM OF THE WORLD.—Paragraphs like the following, from the North British Review, are calculated to make one feel a nothingness. It says:

What this change is to be, we dare not even conjecture; but we see in the heavens themselves some traces of destructive elements, and some indications of their power. The fragments of broken planets, the descent of the meteoric stones upon our globe, the wheeling comets, wielding their loose materials in our own satellite, the appearance of new stars, and the disappearance of others, are as the solar furnace, all foreshadow of that impending convulsion to which the system of the world is doomed. Thus placed on a planet which is to be burned up and under heavens which are to pass away; thus treading, as it were, on the cemeteries, and dwelling upon the mausoleums of former worlds, it is ours to learn the lesson of humility and wisdom, if we have not already been taught in the school of revelation."

A man named McKnight who was wounded in a fight with Indians on the 6th of May last, near Owyhee, died at Silver City on the 22d ult., from the effects of his wounds. He gave no information concerning his former life or the place of his nativity. Even his christian name was unknown. He was about fifty years of age, and was evidently one of that class of men who having separated from friends, relatives and early associations, and meeting with poor success in life, wander on aimlessly and at last die without caring where.

GROWL FROM A "NERVOUS MAN."—One of our citizens who evidently has very little admiration for the National Game, sends us the following growl:

In the name of humanity how long are we to be afflicted with this base ball nonsense? Week after week are we regaled with the valiant performances of the Occidents, that club. Such items doubtless are delectable reading to the Legge and sack, but of what possible interest can they be to the mass of readers? "Three-Base Hit" may be a very good game, so is marbles, blind man's buff, hide and seek, but old sister Phœbe, but who, in the name of reason, would expect to see elaborate weekly reports of these games in the papers? Come, now, take a sensible view of the matter and show a little mercy on a NERVOUS MAN.

Really, we are unable to give our inquiring friend the information for which he so pathetically asks. Our vision is unable, as yet, to pierce the veil and see the end of the "base ball nonsense." All we know at present is, that the National game is meeting with favor on the fly", and we cannot help but consider it a short stop." We sympathize deeply with our nervous friend, but we positively can't think of a single word of consolation. If he can't endure base ball, we know of no remedy, unless it may be found in a game of marbles. It might be worth the experience to try it, though we cannot, on our professional reputation, say that it would be found a panacea for shattered nerves. The game of marbles is rough on the pants and the knees of trousers, but it may be first-rate exercise for all we know to the contrary. Now that we have given it—and it is a lucky thought, too—three cheers, perhaps our "nervous man" can be induced to read the base ball news. If he don't read 'em, they won't make him sick. We are reminded of a story. A boy was at work in a cornfield, patch with his father; said the boy to his father, "Pa," said pa. 'Dad, they say the trout bite splendid, now." "Yes," said pa, and the fortunate, "Well, sonny, you keep away from the water, then, they won't bite you." "Nervous man" can make the application.

OREGON CITY ITEMS.—We clip the subjoined items from the Enterprise of the 3d: The iron building for the street corners in Oregon City, arrived on the 1st inst. August. They are decidedly fine, regular Corinthian cast iron ones.....The People's Transportation Company have started a blast in the channel of the Willamette, between Canemah and this city, which was a necessary and will result in good. We hope to see them carry the rock to Rock Island, and blow the bottom out between there for a few rods..... The return match between the Clackamas Club and the Occidentals will be played in this city on Tuesday next..... Wednesday in this city the thermometer stood in the shade, northern exposure ..On Sunday last Burns was out walking with his family; shortly, he was badly poisoned with oak, and at the time is unable to attend to business. The part affected is his face, which is badly swollen and mottled. Mayor Ralston had his pocket picked on the streets of this city last Wednesday evening. The property recovered, and no names will be made public, in consequence of the respectability of the party implicated. Business, which has been so quiet in this city that we almost unbearable, has picked up considerably in a week. The Imperial Mills were started some days since, and the woolen mills start in all departments the full capacity, on Monday next.....Instances are often cited to us in this county, showing that there be a great decrease in the quantity of hay usually taken from farmers. One gentleman, who formerly took from two choice meadows from 50 to 100 tons of hay, will this season have but about 20 tons. Other cases are unusually small. This is owing to the lack of rain unusually late this season.....The long established mercantile firm of Charman Bros. was changed on the first of this month by the retirement of Mr F. Charman our partner, who has disposed of his interest to Joshua Charman, the original head of the business.

THE OPERA.—Signor Bianchi's Opera troupe, appeared Saturday evening at Oro Fino, in Verdi's lyric opera, Il Trovatore. This was the opera ever presented to a Portland audience, both for the absence of scenories, orchestra and chorus, the drama was presented with very good effect, and was received with fair appreciation on the part of the audience. Criticism of the singers would be little unjust; because they appeared without the stage adjunct save their costumes and the accompaniment. We have heard it remarked by voteries of the opera that the singing and the "stage business" was—better, in fact, than could have been expected under the circumstances. Signorina Bellini is a young lady of very attractive face and person, and though she has a little of the facial expression necessary to depict the great variety of passions, feelings and sentiments of the piece, she is rather a charming Prima D. We doubt if any of the artistes ever appeared under many disadvantages and we thought that they missed the of the orchestral support every operatic singer knows is essential to success; yet, in the main, they each sustained their parts with creditable spirit, and truth to the notes. It will be presented Bellini's grand lyric opera of, with Signorina Bellini as Norma.

SUCCESSFUL EXPEDITION AGAINST INDIANS.—The Mountaineer of the 3d has the following news from Canyon City: "Colonel Baker returned to Camp Watson on the 28th ult. from his scout in Malheur Mountain and the Harney Lake country. Eight to twenty-two prisoners and two captured horses in the different skirmishes with the Indians last week. This is decidedly the most successful scout has ever been made against the Snakes from the of the Blue Mountains. The Colonel deserves a deal of credit and the thanks of this entire community for the masterly manner in which he is ridding the country of these red devils. The entire road from here to is now entirely free from Indians. This is the time we have been able to make this statement since the settlement of the country."

THE ATHLETICS AGAINST THE ECLIPSE.—These two clubs played a match game on Saturday, the Pioneers' grounds, in which all the juveniles among the boys of older growth, took a decided interest. The game was contested with much spirit, and self the boys, by fine playing, elicited flattering encomiums from members of the Pioneer club, who were present. The following is the score:

| ATHLETIC.... | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 | Total. |
| | 4 | 2 | 2 | 12 | 5 | 1 | 12 | | | 99 |
| ECLIPSE.... | 0 | 0 | 3 | 2 | 2 | 3 | 5 | 5 | | 20 |

Mr. Wiley, of the Pioneer club, as umpire.

IMPROVEMENT IN BUSINESS.—This paper speaks encouragingly of the business feeling the last week at that place. It says: There is a change noticeable in business. During the week certain houses have filled large orders of goods for the country. We noticed teams loading at Frenchmen' and Bloch, Miller & Co.'s. We are assured there from Idaho are trading in quite freely, and anticipation is that the months of August will witness times. Our retail dealers are also experiencing a change for the better. We took a stroll on Morrison last, and noticed all the stores on the line of street busy selling goods.

MULTNOMAH LODGE, I. O. O. F.—The following is a list of the officers of Multnomah Lodge, No. 12, I. O. O. F., for the term ending Oct. 31st, installed Saturday evening the 3d inst.: Chas. Lynn, W. C. A BRICK WAREHOUSE.—Mr. Lane will open in about six weeks, his brick store at corner of Front and Main streets. He has the house furnished with rat-proof bins, for storage of grain, thus avoiding one of the great most constant wastes to which stored goods are subject in this city. The building is situated so as conveniently accessible from the river.

THE BILLIARD MATCH.—The game of billiards, Saturday evening, between A. Loner and Joshua Davis, for $25 a side and a chowder, was won by Skinner by only four points. The match between the same players is pending; to end next Saturday evening, for $50 a side. The game played, as before, at one of W. O. Bruen's, at the Magnolia saloon.

CASE SETTLED.—Last week, Johnney and A. B. Rosenclarist, complained of John Miller, before Justice Anderson, for an assault and. The defendant was found guilty and was fined cents. On Saturday, matters were reversed, Mabel Rosenclarist being arraigned before Justice Gra for an assault and battery upon Tom Miller. Mr. Brackett is a lawyer of unquestionable ability, with its experience resulting from a practice of over twenty years, mostly in Louisville, Ky., and New York City, which has brought him in constant contact with the ablest lawyers of the nation, he is certainly qualified to attend to any business that may be entrusted to his professional care. We bespeak for him a liberal patronage in his new home.

MEETING FOR THE POOR OF THE SOUTH.—The second of the meetings in this city under the direction of Rev. Dr. Haynes, in aid of the poor of the South, will be held at the Court House this evening. The meeting last evening at the Presbyterian Church was a full one, and the contributions, we learn, were quite liberal.

LETTERS FROM THE INTERIOR OF THE STATE.

[FROM OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT.]

ROSEBURG, Aug. 2, 1867.

When we left Eugene, I took a seat with the driver, so as to have a fair view of the country, and soon we were rolling away up the the "Coast Fork." For several miles the valley is broad and beautiful, but as we approach Calapooia mountains, it grows much narrower. The road passes through a very low gap in the mountains, and the ascent is so gradual that it is not easy to mark the precise locality of the summit. From the summit on for several miles, the road is a toll road. It is rough, being a corduroy, but is far better than a mud road. The country is very rough and hilly until we reach Yamolla, which is one of the most charming little valleys that I have seen. The Umpqua valley has been described so often that I will not attempt it. It has been called a "valley of valleys," a "valley of hills," &c. I think the hills predominate, and yet there is so much beauty and diversity in the landscapes, that I like it very much. The low lands are very rich and yield fine crops of grain and vegetables, while the hills are sufficiently fertile to make good pastures. It is one of the finest grazing districts in the State, especially for sheep. I am told that one of the Applegates owns 12,00 sheep, and many farmers have from 500 to 2,00 head. Transportation is so high that there is but little grain or flour shipped from here. The surplus grain is converted into bacon, which is hauled to Portland or Scottsburg. At flour is selling at $6 per barrel, wheat 75 cents per bushel, bacon 10 cents, and beef 7 to 8 cents at retail. This pleasant little town and the hills around it are nicely shaded by the spreading oaks, that remind me of the live oaks of Louisiana. It contains 3 stores, 2 blacksmith shops, 1 wagon shop, 1 saddler shop, 1 hotel, 1 saloon, and a good flouring mill. The trade and business of Oakland is large for a town of its size. Mr. E. A. Whittlesey, the Assistant Superintendent of the California Telegraph Company reached here to-day with his party, repairing the "line." He commenced work on the line at Portland on the 1st of May, and has spent three months between that point and Oakland. The posts are all recoated thoroughly braced with cedar braces, and the old insulators are all removed and new ones inserted. When this job is completed, the cry of "line down" will not be heard so often. Mr. W. informs me that it is about as much work to overhaul and repair the old line, as it would be to put a new one. The

was the last day of July. At Roseburg the thermometer stood at 107° in the shade, and at Roseburg 110° in the shade. Peaches from various places in this vicinity, have induced me that the plums, where exposed to the sunshine cooked to the center; and I saw to-day bushes of grapes that were cooked, and even the vines were killed. The leaves on the most exposed side of a maple tree, in this town, were killed by the excessive heat, and dried so that they might be rubbed into powder.

is an old looking town, and I shall judge from its appearance, that it got its growth several years ago. There are no sidewalks in the town, and as this is in "the black mud region, I suppose the inhabitants hibernate indoors. Roseburg contains about two hundred and fifty to three hundred persons, and has appearance of being rather a dull town. P. W. G.

PAVEMENTS.—The New York Times has the following:

The Chicago Times complains that the Nicolson pavement is by no means as good as it is claimed to be. We can assure that paper that the best way to be content with what it has, however imperfect, is to try the Belgian pavement for a few month. Here in New York anything will be an improvement on this execrable abomination. We do not despair one day of having the Paris pavement tried in up-town streets squares of New York, because its merits where use to the experiment. The difficulty now that most persons suppose the asphalte system has proved a failure. This is far from true. The London asphalte pavement was indeed a disastrous failure, and so were the experiments in other cities; even in Paris it was similarly regarded years ago, it being sticky in summer and by indented by wheels. But at this moment asphalte in Paris, both for side-walks and streets, is a triumphant success. The secret is in the nature of the composition and the way of laying it. For footways the asphalte is heated in cauldrons balanced on trunnions, and then poured into buckets, whence it is spread out smooth by irons. This machinery is obviously as simple is used when water-pipes are laid or a roof is tar. For paving streets the composition is sown powder compressed by hot iron rammers and rolled smooth by hot iron rollers. The result is a pavement as level as a garden path, easy and cable for travel, and—a blessing for half-crazed Yorkers—the sound of the heaviest wheels is muffled. The saving comes not only in horse but in the ear drums and nerves of citizens.

THE BODIES OF BULL RUN.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, who of a visit to the battle field of Bull Run, says:

"The first sight that greeted eyes at Manassas Junction, was a terrible reminder of the war. Two huge piles of bones; bones, cattle bones and, sad to say, human bones intermingled, lay whitening right in front of the hotel. They are picked up off the battle fields by the owners of the soil, and carted here for shipment by the cars to be ground into fertilizers, some mill in Baltimore. The price here is $ a pound,' one of Fairbank's platform scales ding ready by the railway track, to weigh the eries, and several tons of bones have been good. One man with a girl to help him, collect two days bones enough to come to $10. landlord, a Pennsylvania Dutchman named brought out a long and powerful looking from behind the bar, saying, 'there, now, some poor fellow's thigh bone.' The sight one to inspire cheerful reflections. In ter great heap were piled masses of camp broken musket barrels, wheel tires, solid and broken shells, fragments, of swords, bits gun gear, old rusty fire locks and the like. loo is for the market, the last relics of the debris of destruction of which every battle fruitful parent."

ABOUT THE RATIO.—During a late Richmond, a valuable article was put a price at one dollar a share, and comprising hundred shares. A gentleman wishing possess the prize, and deeming it worth the required, offered to take all the shares not readily sold. Only one had been taken, and before took the remaining ninety-nine. Sanger that the prize must fall to him, great was his chagrin at finding, when the drawing was of the number be had missed was the lucky one, that he was just ninety nine dollars out of "THE VERY THINGS TO HAVE ABOUT THE HOUSE" is what everybody says of Howe & Stevens' fine Fluid Dyes Colors. What everybody says with such unanimity and enthusiasm must be true. They are cheap and economical. Sold by Smith & Davis.

PERFECTLY ENRAPTURING.—Such were our feelings as we stepped into the Music and Art Gallery of W. T. SHANAHAN, on First street, a few days since, and listened to the delightful tones and harmony which came from one of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs. From the soft breathing flute tone to the thundering bass of the pipe organ all was equally free and sweet. And why is it other makers cannot produce instruments like these? Messrs. Mason & Hamlin were the first to introduce the Cabinet Organ, and have gained such world wide notoriety that it requires the work of two large factories to supply the demand for these valuable instruments.

Caught in a Tunnel.

BY REV. WM. H. MORRIS

Wishing to be present at the wedding of a cousin in Albany, a few days ago, I took my seat in an evening Hudson River Railroad train. While looking through the window at the crowd of hurrying passengers, I felt my shoulder touched, and heard the pleasant voice of my friend Captain D——.

As there is no military renown connected with the incident I am about to relate, perhaps he might not like his name to appear, but should you visit West Point and meet with an artillery officer whom everybody likes, and who is one of the most agreeable companions in the world, you may ask him about his tunnel adventure, and he will describe it to you better than I can.

The conversation of my friend converted the tediousness of the journey into enjoyment, and before we had supposed ourselves at Peekskill, we were surprised at the shout of the brakeman announcing the station, "Garrison's."

"Do you not stop here for West Point?" I inquired.

"No," replied the Captain, "I am going to Hudson to dine with Algor."

Immediately after passing Garrison's, the train steamed through the long tunnel which takes its name from the station. My friend was silent for several minutes after, when, turning to me, he said, "I always feel chilly when I go through that tunnel."

"For what reason," I asked.

"I was caught in it one night," said the Captain, "and I think I never so narrowly escaped death as on that occasion."

I begged him to relate the particulars, and he obligingly described the occurrence as follows:

"You have tired long enough in Cold Springs," said the Captain, "to know that the Saturday dinners of Mr. —— are exceedingly delightful. Well, on one occasion I was present on one of these Saturday evening re-unions, and there was such an unusual amount of enjoyment, that time flew by with double its ordinary rapidity. Gen. Scott had taken his seat at the whist table, and having been beaten, he could not bear to abandon the game until he had had his 'revenge.' A group of West Point Professors watched the players with deep interest; and I myself became absorbed in watching the game, that when I at last remembered that I had agreed to meet Livingston at the depot, and go with him to Garrison's, I found on looking at my watch that I had but seven minutes to get to the train. I made my parting salutes and walked rapidly to the station, but arrived too late. The train had gone.

"The night was beautiful, the stars were brilliant and the moon was nearly full. I felt unusually well, and being an excellent walker, I at once resolved to walk to Garrison's, for the distance was only about three miles, and I had on several occasions walked over that portion of the railroad. I examined my time table, saw that there was no trains due for some hours. I did not, at that time, know it had that day been changed.

"After picking my way over the long bridges on piles, and testing my powers of walking a rail over the draw-bridge, I reached the mouth of the tunnel. It looked darker and more forbidding than I expected, and I paused a few moments before I resolved to go through it. I had not gone far when I was in perfect darkness. Knowing that the trains run on the right track, I took the one on the left, in order that I might not be overtaken in the rear, and could see the engine lights if approaching me in front, as soon as possible. I had reached about the middle of the tunnel, when I heard the distant rumbling of a train. I listened attentively, and felt satisfied that the cars were coming from the direction of Cold Spring. I therefore continued on the track I had taken. Presently the sound of the engine whiz reverberated in the dismal passage, and I was startled with the singular effect, for at one instant I was sure it came from the north, while a second sound seemed to come from the opposite direction. In fact I soon became so uncertain as to the way the train would approach, that I stood still and watched both entrances. In a very few minutes I saw the bright light of the locomotive sweeping round the curve near the northerly mouth, and I felt relieved, for the train was on the other track. But the unearthly noise of the rapidly moving cars was enough to terrify even a stout heart.

While watching the passing train, I suddenly became aware of another train entering the tunnel from the opposite direction. Escape seemed impossible. Both tracks were occupied, and I knew if I fell down upon the middle of the track, the engine car had would inevitably tear me to atoms. To the right of the trench outside of the track, and sprang across the rail to throw myself down in it, but as the beam of the engine light came rushing towards me, I found there was not room. Why my wife did not desert me has always been a wonder, for I felt that I had but a second or two more to live, and would be killed in a most horrible manner; but a merciful Providence directed my eyes to an unusually large cavity in the wall, caused by a blast near a seam, and with the 'rapidity of thought, I sprang into it, and pressed my back against the rocks. The cars rushed by, and I saw that the wind caused by their motion blew off my hat, and a few cars that were an inch or two wider than the rest rubbed my clothing, as I afterwards saw by the marks. Oh! my friend, if you know the agony of those moments. The suspense—the hope of escape, and the terror lest some car a little wider than the rest should drag me from that shallow cavity and crush me—the bewildering, rushing, crushing noise of that fearful train, and the interminable time it appeared to take to pass by, you would not wonder that I cannot now pass through that tunnel, although safely in my car, without a shudder, and a prayer of thankfulness to Providence for not forsaking me in those trying moments."

The captain was silent for several minutes, and I did not speak to him for some time, as I was profoundly impressed with his thrilling story.

COUNTRY NEWSPAPERS.—The Round Table has been reviewing, with discriminating intelligence and spirit, the various classes of newspapers in America. Of the country papers, it says:

The proper sphere of such publications is not difficult to determine. They should give full accounts of all local events—county courts, public meetings, village societies, crops, improvements of all kinds, new roads, new houses built, all transactions in real estate—such accounts as shall enable their absent readers to keep fresh their knowledge of the condition of their homes and shall suffice to acquaint curious strangers with the resources and enterprise of places they have never seen. Beyond this they should keep their home readers au fait in matters of state interest—public institutions and public works, legislative and political proceedings, improvements, present and prospective, the subjects of attention in the various towns and sections of the State. They should further, in their capacity of family papers, provide market news for the farmers, and for them, their wives and children, general reading judiciously apportioned between the instructive and the amusing, neither becoming too heavy for their patience, nor descending to the sentimental sensationalism of the flash weeklies or the records of the police gazettes. Finally—for the limits of country journals will not admit, nor do the wants of the people who read none other require, exhaustive news details—an account should be given of the leading events of the day in as condensed a form as is compatible with clearness and accuracy, say to the extent of one or two columns each week, not of disconnected scraps, but of coherent narrative without comment.

The editor of the country paper can command success by giving his paper sufficient excellence. Let him, by studying good models and using his space to the best advantage in the manner we have indicated earlier in this article, render his paper a necessity to the people of the region in which it is published. Thus it will secure a sure local circulation in every family of its region, which must be followed by remunerative advertising and consequent independence. But the practical obstacles to such a course are very great and very numerous. They are due primarily to the same inordinate multiplication which we noted as the cause of the feebleness of the Episcopal press. The excessive competition of half a dozen newspapers struggling for a livelihood wherever there is room for one has demoralized editors, and the public alike. If the editor makes a stand for what is his due, recourse is had to rivals ready to underbid him by whatever means. If he demands proper payment for his advertising it is taken to some one who will do it cheaper and he is left with none; if he declines to have his duties interrupted by every gossiping lounger it is attributed to hauteur, and his popularity and that of his journal is destroyed; if he demands proper payment it is taken in dudgeon; if he pursues an independent course in any local or general issue there is a defection among his readers to a sheet of less principle and more ready of compliance; if he refuses to lend his own to venal purposes a hundred expedients can be employed to break it down or exalt its rival. This state of things has tended inevitably to the deterioration of the country press and of the class of men who are willing to work upon it.

UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT.—The grounds and buildings of the University of Vermont and Agricultural College at Burlington are to be improved, new professorships established, and the general facilities for instruction enlarged. To do this $75,000 are needed, and of this amount the citizens of Burlington have already subscribed $32,-

The milliners are going to enlarge the size of ladies bonnets. They find it difficult to put $30 worth of gewgaws on a pen wiper or wafer.

Although Secretary Stanton stands alone in the Cabinet in resisting Executive usurpation, yet the people are with him and will sustain him to the end. It is no secret that the Secretary realizes in General Grant a warm and effective supporter.

In a recent number of the Foxtown Fusilier appears the following kind editorial note: "Postscript—We stop the press with pleasure to announce the decease of our contemporary, Mr. Snags, editor of the Foxtown Flash. He has now gone to another and a better world. Persons who have taken the Flash will find the Fusilier a very good paper."

When the Military bill passed Congress the Republican press in the non reconstructed States numbered fifteen small journals, only four of which were dailies. There are now thirty six, of which fourteen are dailies, several are tri-weeklies and the remainder are published weekly. All of them have greatly improved in tone and vigor, and a number are quite able.

While presiding at one of the General Association meeting in Connecticut, Rev. Dr. Strong of Hartford, called upon a ministerial brother as follows: "Brother Colton, of Bolton, will you step this way and pray?" Brother Colton arose to his feet and very solemnly replied: "My dear Brother Strong, you do very wrong to be making a rhyme at this solemn time."

That was a pungent saying of the poet Holmes—"Controversy equalizes fools and wise,—and the fools know it." Again, speaking of the use of cant phrases and intemperate adjectives, the same author remarks: "They are the bank checks of intellectual bankruptcy; you may fill them up with what idea you like; it makes no difference, for there are no funds in the treasury from which they are drawn."

Gen. Weitzel, now attached to the topographical corps of the regular army, with the rank of Major, will have charge of the surveys for a canal around the Falls of the Ohio on the Indiana side. The New Albany Ledger remarks: "The scheme for a canal around the falls on the Indiana side is not an idle one. The Government realized the vast importance of such a canal during the war, and it is determined to build it now and thus provide against any further exigency."

An expedition has recently left England under the auspices of the Royal Geographical Society, to explore the interior of Greenland. This immense island—if island it be—supposed to be larger than the whole United States between the Canadian line and the Gulf of Mexico, and the Mississippi and the Atlantic ocean, has never yet been thoroughly explored. Mr. Edward Whimper, of Alpine fame, and Mr. Robert Brown, a Rocky mountain explorer, are the leaders of this expedition.

A REMINISCENCE OF SLAVERY.—A little more than twelve years ago a person well known in Washington became embarrassed, and his property in human flesh was sold under the hammer to pay gambling debts. One young woman was sold to a person who took her to New Orleans, while her two infant children (the oldest two years of age) were sold to a planter residing in one of the lower counties of Maryland. Mother and children separated for life, as was then supposed. The war came on; those in bonds were made free, and recently this poor slave mother arrived in Washington in search of her long lost offspring. Twelve years absence had not healed the wound in that mother's heart, but she still yearned to press the children of her youth to her bosom. Four weeks ago she found them in Maryland, the eldest, now fourteen years old, bound out for twelve dollars per year. The mother demanded her child, and was threatened in response to this demand with violence—was, in fact, driven from the place, and was told, moreover, that "if niggers were free in Louisiana they were not free in Maryland." The poor woman sought out Gen. Howard, and through his agency, a few days since, the long lost girl was restored to her almost distracted mother. With characteristic meanness, the person to whom this child was bound refuses to pay the wages due, and legal steps have been taken to recover the amount.—Wash. Chronicle.

WILL SOLVE THE PROBLEM.—The Salt Lake Vedette concludes an article on the "Mormon Problem" thus:

Not only are the American people determined to solve the "problem," if the Mormon dignitaries of Brigham Young's wing of the faith, don't do it, but the Mormon people are beginning to see that it will be done, and there will be no religious persecution about it, either. It needs no prophet to tell that in this city there are plenty of men and women who are tired of polygamy, and would hail with joy the day of their deliverance from the Mahomedan meshes of Utah Mormonism.

The "problem" will be solved before long, and Mormonism when stripped of its deformities, may be more attractive.

A GRACELESS VILLAIN.—William Eddy, the young man sent to Lenox, (Mass.) jail, for assaulting a woman at Windsor, touchingly remarked on being delivered to his guardians: "I don't care a d——n what they do with me if they don't hang me, and I don't believe mother does; she has got twenty-two children besides me."

THESE WHEELS, unequaled and unrival in the United States or the world, have been by tested on this coast, more than forty being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Air Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

On account of the late calamity to the OREGON IRON WORKS we have lost a few Wheels, but of these we have a good supply, therefore those contemplating using this Wheel need not be disappointed, but forward their order at once, accompanied with the CASH, which we now need more than the Wheels.

We cheerfully refer to all using our wheels and are assured that all will affirm that our sole accomplishment and even more than we claim for them. Address
